How do we manage?

Leadership

- Different types of leadership:
 - ve increased absence, increased stress and impacts on employees well being.
 - +ve improves individuals / team / organisational performance.

Transformational Leadership

Transactional 'vs' Transformational

1. Clarify goals and objectives and the focus is on short term.
2. Focus on control mechanisms.
3. Solving problems
4. Maintain status quo or improve current situation.
5. Plan, organise and control
6. Guard and defend existing culture
7. Positional power exercised.

1. Establish long term vision
2. Create a climate of trust
3. Make people solve their own problems by empowerment.
4. Change the current situation. Every threat is seen as an opportunity.
5. Train, coach counsel and mentor people.
6. Change culture
7. Power comes from relationships and influencing people. The pressure exerted is subtle and has greater finesse.

Vision

"Vision is the dream that invents the future"

- ◆ Developing a shared vision
- ◆ Direction, aligning people
- ◆ Painting pictures
- ◆ Pride
- ◆ Make people believe it's achievable

Why is it needed?

Independent analysis of current management styles.

Individualised Consideration

- ◆ Genuine concern for others and their welfare
- ◆ Communicate positive expectations of people
- ◆ Treat them with dignity and respect
- ◆ Not interested in status, treat everyone as equals
- ◆ Value diversity and difference
- ◆ Are you ok?

Does The Soft Fluffy Stuff Really Work?

Research has shown that:

Transformational Leadership has a significantly greater impact than transactional leadership on a variety of subjective and objective outcome measures, including:

- ◆ Job satisfaction, motivation, and performance of followers
- ◆ Lower levels of stress & burnout amongst staff
- ◆ More collaborative, innovative, harmonious teams
- ◆ Financial performance of organisations
- ◆ Performance in public sector organisations

Some of the things we have done:-

Formal

- ◆ Regular staff briefings
- ◆ One to ones
- ◆ Feedback from clients - communication info with staff
- ◆ Newsletters / LENS / Gen
- ◆ Talktime Anytime
- ◆ Awards Ceremonies
- ◆ Recognition Events - Charter Mark / NVQ
- ◆ Visibility of Managers
- ◆ Thank You Letters

Informal

- ◆ Coffee Chats
- ◆ Lottery Club
- ◆ Birthday Club
- ◆ Illness
- ◆ Bereavement
- ◆ Leaving Do's
- ◆ Children in Need

In Memory of Gladys Evans

- ◆ Tributes have flooded in following the death of a much-loved council cleaner.
- ◆ Gladys Evans was employed as a domestic supervisor at Gateshead's professional centre, Dryden, for the past 30 years.
- ◆ And, in memory of the woman who touched the lives of so many, Gateshead council held a service in her honour and remembered her the way she would have wanted to be remembered... with sweets.
- ◆ Mrs Evans was famous throughout the council for handing out sweets to her colleagues every day, a tradition she would have never given up on.
- ◆ And, in an affectionate tribute at her memorial service, each of her colleagues was given a sweet in commemoration of her.
- ◆ Indeed, Gladys was so well-liked and respected by her work colleagues, around 300 of them packed into the service, held last month following her death in December. Dale Robson, Head of Transport Cleaning and Catering at Gateshead Council, who led the service, said: "Gladys was a dedicated worker and a very valuable part of our team. She always gave above and beyond what was expected and was popular for her infectious, cheerful and friendly manner. She was always eager to brighten everyone's mood. She will be missed a great deal by everyone who uses the centre - she truly was the heart of her workplace."
